

TO ADD PRIVACY and create a sense of age, the Reimans planted mature boxwoods on either side of their drive. "The trellis was built with seating underneath for watching the boys play sports in the yard," says mom Cynthia.

ALL THE FABRIC on the breakfast nook's upholstered banquette and chairs is laminated to ensure a kid-friendly space. "And it's guilt-free for adults drinking red wine," says decorator Kim Zimmerman.

“We were looking for practical romance”

Music lovers Cynthia Good and Joey Reiman created a colorful Atlanta cottage that can withstand a hard day's night for their busy family of four

LIFE IS LIKE A MOVIE for Cynthia Good and Joey Reiman. "Our theme is The Enchanted Cottage," says Cynthia, referring to the 1945 Oscar-nominated film. "It's a story of two people, and regardless of what's happening in the outside world, when they go into their cottage, life is beautiful." For Cynthia and Joey, this notion of a cottage as a refuge from reality is no Hollywood story line. The couple asked decorator Kim Zimmerman to create a similar escape for their family while updating the house they'd called home for 17 years.

"We wanted it to be the kind of place that would reinforce the closeness we have with our family," Joey says. "We were looking for practical romance—the juxtaposition between functionality and imagination." Because Joey and Cynthia are both leaders in creative fields (Joey founded a marketing think tank called BrightHouse, and Cynthia launched Pink magazine), Kim selected a bold, bright color palette. "She was a human highlighter," Joey says. "Kim really brought out the best in us and expressed it in our house."

PRODUCER MOLLY POWER PASTOR PHOTOGRAPHER JEREMY SAMUELSON
STYLIST LINDSEY ELLIS BEATTY WRITER ROBIN SUTTON

A SIGNED COLLECTION OF BEATLES PLATES

came out of hiding
and took center stage
above the stove.

